Application Process

Main Street Community Foundation's Scholarship Program begins accepting applications on January 15. The deadline for the majority of scholarships is March 8; there are a few exceptions that are noted in this directory. Students may submit applications at any time.

1. The majority of scholarships utilize an online application, which can be accessed at mainstreetfoundation.org/apply-for-scholarship; there are a few exceptions that are noted in this directory.
2. Review scholarships early and follow the application instructions carefully. The majority of applications require a transcript, letters of recommendation, essay or other documentation that may take a little time to complete or collect.
3. Be sure you meet all eligibility requirements for the scholarship you are applying to, follow the directions carefully, include all required documentation and submit the application on time.
4. Watch your email for an award letter from the Community Foundation in mid-May.

What You Need to Know - Frequently Asked Questions

Q: When are applications due?

A: The majority of applications are due March 8 by 11:59 p.m.; there are a few exceptions that are noted in this directory.

Q: Can I apply for and receive multiple scholarships?

A: Yes. You can apply to and receive as many scholarships as you qualify for.

Q: What time period can the scholarships be utilized?

A: Scholarships awarded in 2024 are applied toward the 2024-2025 academic school year. Renewable scholarships follow the same academic calendar and are payable once per academic year.
